DAILY REVIEW OF TRANSACTIONS ON

THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Two-Thirds of the Business Confined to Sugar, Chicago Gas and St. Paul -General Advance in Prices.

At New York yesterday money on call was easy at 11/2 per cent; the last loan being made at 114; closing offered at 114 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 2%@4% per cent. Sterling exchange quiet and steady, with actual business in bankers' bill at $4.88%@ 4.88% for demand and $4.87%@4.87% for sixty days; posted rates $4.831/2 and $4.981/2; commercial bills, $4.86\2@4.86%. Silver certificates 50c bid.

Bar silver closed at 59% c per ounce; at London, 27%d. The total sales of stock were 119,762 shares, including the following: American Sugar, 38,600; Burlington, 3,500; Chicago Gas, 27,000;

New York Central, 3,300; Northwestern, 2,-500; Reading, 2,600; St. Paul, 11,260. Two-thirds of all the business done on the Stock Exchange at New York yesterday was distributed between three stocks-Sugar, Chicago Gas and St. Paul-and onethird was done in Sugar alone. At the opening and during the first hour, the market was weak, but the trading was very light and the losses were merely fractional, except in the case of Pittsburg & Western preferred, which lost 1 per cent. The grangers participated freely in the decline, easing off 160%. St. Paul being under pressure of London as well as local selling. Before 1 o'clock, the temper of speculation underwent a change for the better although the trading continued very light all the mornwent a change for the better although the trading continued very light all the morning. Chicago Gas was most prominent in the forenoon trading, being in brisk demand to cover short contracts; the stock was very scarce in the loan market and trading had resolved itself into a mild squeeze, resulting in an advance of 1% to 7614. The coal shares took a start upward in the second hour of business and Lake Erie & Western preferred and Erie Telegraph joined in the procession. In the early afternoon while there was no abatement of the firmness, the market became extremely dull and the upward movement made no material progress until about the beginning of the last hour of the day. The harmonious action of the annual meeting of American Sugar Refining Company in re-electing the old board of directors, although entirely to be expected, seemed to infuse some life into the trading and, on moderate buying, an advance of 2% per cent. was effected from the low point of the morning, the stock closing at the highest figures touched and 2% per cent. above yesterday's closing sale. The general market also took on itself considerable bouyancy and as the upward turn followed on the heels of the announcement from Washington of the defeat of the resolution to close debate on the currency bill, the strength of the market was ascribed to that fact by many operators. Chicago Gas and Delaware & Hudson made additional gains to close debate on the currency bill, the strength of the market was ascribed to that fact by many operators. Chicago Gas and Delaware & Hudson made additional gains and Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago & Alton and others of the specialites shared largely in the general improvement. The market continued strong to the close and the last prices made were in most instances the best of the day. Among the leading advances on the day were Sugar, 2½; Delaware & Hudson, Chicago Gas and Consolidated Gas, 2½; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and Lake Erie & Western preferred, 1½; Baltimore & Ohio, Lake Shore and American Tobacco, 1½; Eric Telegraph, 1½; Chicago & Alton, 1; New Jersey Central, Northern Pacific preferred, Great Northern preferred, and Susquehanna & Western preferred, and Susquehanna & Western preferred, and Susquehanna & Western preferred, and Pittsburg & Western preferred, 1½ per cent. A few of the inactive stocks recorded declines, including Hocking Valley preferred, 1½ and Pittsburg & Western preferred, 1 per cent. Southern preferred lost 1 per cent.

The bond market ruled firm during the day and business was of moderate proportions. The sales were $1,061,500. Government bonds were firm. State bonds dull.

TURKISH CENSORSHIP

HOW THE PORTE INTEFTERES WITH THE WORK OF MISSIONARIES,

Innocent Commentaries on the Scriptures Mutilated on Pretense of Guarding Against Sedition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.- There is another question pending between the United States and Turkey that is of almost as much interest to the Christian world as the persecution of the Armenians. It has been the subject of correspondence between the American legation in Constantinople and the Department of State in Washington for several years and involves the right of foreigners as well as the subjects of the Sublime Porte to the free exercise of their re-

The Imperial Ottoman government guarantees religious liberty, but at the same time exercises censorship over all religious books, both those which are published by he Protestant societies within the limits of Turkey and those imported from foreign countries, The Turkish system of censorship is extremely comprehensive and severe. There is a censor in every villayat who exercises unlimited and unquestioned power over everything that is printed and claims the right to open and examine all packages, sealed or unsealed, that pass through the mails; but by law he is required to stamp the word "examined" upon any letter, paper or package that he opens. He is a member of the highest court of the province in which he lives, and when the governor is absent rules in his stead. He is always a rigid Mahometan, and goes to his mosque five times on Friday, which makes the publication of Saturday newspapers difficult. For the last few years the missionaries of the American board have had a great deal of trouble with the censors whose duty is to examine and pass upon religious books. Some of them are entirely un-acquainted with the doctrines of the Chris-tian church, and some are unable to undertian church, and some are unable to under-stand the language of the books upon which they are expected to render judgment. The result is a painful trifling with things held sacred by all Christians. The explanation of the Holy Scriptures in commentaries and other publications has been restricted, statements of Christian doctrine in books and newspapers have been erased and altered, and quotations from religious works altered, and quotations from religious works and even from the Scriptures themselves introduced into books and essays for the purpose of illustration and argument have been stricken out. Phrases and single words have been suppressed without regard to their context, on the ground that they have a political significance. The use of some of the ordinary Scripture titles of the Savior has actually been forbidden, and when complaint has been maue to the chief censor he has replied that since the Chriscensor he has replied that since the Christians are graciously allowed to use the Holy Bible they need no other books of pies the throne that was occupied by an elder brother, Murad, who was deposed in 1876, and is believed to be imprisoned one of the castles on the Bosphorus. large and influential party in Turkey de-nies the right of Abdul Hamid to the throne, and is supposed to be only wait-ing for an opportunity to create a revolu-tion in the interest of his brother. So great is the fear of such an uprising that a decree has been passed forbidding Mua decree has been passed forbidding Murad's name to be spoken within the limits of Turkey. It so happens that the word "murad" means "to-morrow," or something like that, and was formerly used frequently, both in conversation and in the newspapers and books of the the country, but, owing to this decree, it is now entirely obsolete, and of late years has not been seen in print. So strict are the been seen in print. So strict are the Turkish censors that they have forbidden its use in the Bible. Therefore, wherever the word "to-morrow" occurs in either the strikes it out.

In the commentary on the New Testament in the exposition of the words "Pre pare ye the way of the Lord" (Matt. iii, 3) the following passage has been ordered stricken out by Vehmi Effendi, the chief censor, because it was believed to have some hidden political significance: "Reference is here made to the sending of men before a king or general, to remove any obstacles that may be in the way along which he is to pass, to repair the road, to level its steep places, and so to make it suitable for the king or the army to pass along." The following reference to the words "the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force" (Matt. xi, 12), was stricken out because it referred to military affairs: "The kingdom of heaven suffereth violence like a fortified place, but not because it itself is surrounded by a wall, but because men themselves are beset by sins and prejudices, so that only those who strive—the earnest, the zealous, those who hunger and thirst after righteousness and who are ready to take up the cross and follow Christ—are able to seize it or enter therein." or enter therein." The censor insists that the scriptural The censor insists that the scriptural phrase "kingdom of Christ" may not be used; that Jesus Christ must not be referred to as a king. Wherever the word "Jew" occurs Vehmi Effendi strikes it out, often making nonsense of the context. Upon complaint being made of these meaningless mu-

The censors refused to permit the publication in Turkey unless about fifty of the titles were erased or modified into a form at variance with the matter of the lessons or expanded erased or modified into a form a variance with the matter of the lessons or expanded to a degree impossible in a brief table of contents. The following are typical specimens of the requirements of the censors:

St. Luke, iv. 14-21, "Gospel liberty." The word "liberty" must be erased.

The titles of religious books in common use throughout Christendom are often prohibted and often modified to suit Mahometan ideas; for example, Professor Drummond's "The Greatest Thing in the World," and Montfort's "The Divine Name," "The Law Still Blinding," etc., were suppressed and their use prohibited.

VISIBLE SUPPLY STATEMENT NOT UP TO THEIR EXPECTATIONS.

World's Stock of Wheat Decreased Only 954,000 Bushels Last Week-Few Changes in Cereals.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9,-Wheat fluctuated lazily between 57% and 58%c, and closed %c lower for May. The news was generally bullish, but the world's visible decrease was not up to expectations and on that the market finished easy. Corn closed ic higher; oats, 4c higher and provisions made slight gains.

Wheat opened about as it had closed on the previous afternoon, May brought from 57%658c at the opening plunge, and kept between those prices and 581/sc for half an hour and then made a slight advance. Business was exceedingly dull for an hour, The Bradstreet's visible supply occupied speculation, and the general expectation previous to its receipt was that it would favor the bulls. Receipts were again light and export clearances fair. Foreign markets were generally quoted firm and St. Louis advised another 100,000 bushels of wheat sold this morning for immediate shipment to the seaboard, making 330,000 bushels disposed of in that way in the last three days. Bradstreet's visible supply statement, when received, did not comquite up to the bulls' expectations, as it showed that the world's stocks had only decreased 954,000 bushels, instead of about 2,000,000 bushels, as many had looked for. The starting up of the largest flour mili in Superior, Wis., and the expected re-sumption, within a few days, of other large flour manufactories at Minneapolis and elsewhere, prevented the several breaks in the price of wheat here, which occurred after the slight early advance, from growing serious. New York and St. Louis both advising some business in spot wheat helped also to keep the bulls from getting demoralized. May, from 57% 658c near the opening, advanced to 58% 658%c, fell back to 57% 657%c, and from that recovered to 58c. It again fell to 57%c, and about half an hour from the close was 58c bid. May finished at 57%c.

Corn was again extremely inactive, but Corn was again extremely inactive, but the general tone of the market was firm. The receipts were 338 cars, against estimates of 250 cars. The contract corn in today's receipts amounted to only 11 carloads. The excess of receipts over the estimates was not regarded much by the traders; the offerings were easily absorbed and the market closed a shade higher for May than on the day before. May opened unchanged, at 47½c, touched 47½c and closed at 47½c. unchanged, at 471/2c, touched 477/3c and closed at 475/3c.

The market for oats was not particularly prominent for its activity, yet a fairly active session was passed. Selling was scattered and not very urgent; buying was good, principally by shorts. A firmer feeling was noticeable, and prices were a shade firmer. May started at 30%030%c, sold at 30%c up to 31c and at noon at 30%c, There was about half an hour of moderately active trading in provisions, followed by dullness. The day's fluctuations were slight, but kept, for the most part, above the price they closed at yesterday. In the similar advance was secured for lard and ribs. The steadiness was the result of fair buying, despite liberal hog receipts.

The estimated receipts for Thursday are:

Wheat, 54 cars; corn, 310 cars; oats, 145 cars; hogs, 37,000 head. Leading futures ranged as follows to-

Hopes of Two Families Dashed by the Explosion of a Fake Story.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 .- On March 1, 1890. the Gonio Wielkopoloski, of Posen, published an article that has caused several uprisings of the Mosseynski and Lowiki families. That article said that Sir Glynn, of New York, United States of America. had married a Polish lady in England. and that as he died without offspring his estate of $1,500,000 would revert to the heirs of his wife, who belonged to the Mosseynski and Lowiki families. Now, it is true that Mr. Glynn, who was chief clerk at Castle Garden, died several years ago, but it is not true that he ever married a wealthy Polish lady. While Mr. Glynn was still healthy, about ten years ago, a pracstill healthy, about ten years ago, a practical joker sent to a New York newspaper the story that Mr. Glynn had married a Polish lady worth $1,500,000. The story got out to Little Falls, Minn., several weeks ago. There are Mosseynskis and Lowikis there, and they immediately rose up. Mr. Donald Trettle, probate judge of Morrison county, of which Little Falls is part, last week wrote a letter to Father Callahan, which was turned over last night to the which was turned over last night to the Ellis island authorities. Judge Trettle wants to know, for the benefit of his cilents, when "Sir Glynn" died and what estate he really left. The judge incloses in his letter a translated copy of the ar-
